

PORTLAND, OREGON

Favorites

Notes

Trifecta PDX

Tribeca turns into a tavern in the evenings, stop by anytime of day for the freshest, crustiest baguettes this side of the Atlantic.

Tusk

Food I love to eat: mezze, creative seasonal vegetable dishes, halva ice cream, and service with a smile. "America's Best New Restaurant" and a must in my book!

Smith Teamakers

Visit the warehouse-y shop and factory and linger in the tearoom and shop to pick up your favorite teas - I suggest an assortment - from this local maker.

Extracto Coffee

Good coffee abounds in PDX, but this was my favorite brew, with a perfect milk to coffee ratio in a latte.

Powell's

A book mecca for all ages - put aside a few hours to wander the rooms of this beautiful bibliophile dream (and some extra room in your suitcase)

Beast

Go for brunch! Not only is it much more affordable, but the communal nature and the seamless service on weekends at this PDX classic is sheer perfection.

Ambonny Champagne Bar

My new favorite place: a bar with lots of light, comfy chairs, a hefty champagne list, and popcorn. Happiness!
